New York Number Theory Seminar Tenth Annual Workshop on Combinatorial and Additive Number Theory

CUNY Graduate Center
May 22-25, 2012

Local information

The CUNY Graduate Center is located in midtown Manhattan at 365 Fifth Avenue, between 34th and 35th Streets, diagonally across the street from the Empire State Building. We are easily reached by bus and subway from anywhere in New York City. Moreover, Grand Central Station, New York Penn Station, and the Port Authority Bus Terminal are less than a 20 minute walk from the Graduate Center, so it is feasible to stay almost anywhere in the metropolitan region.

You must sign in at the front desk when you enter the building.

The meeting rooms are equipped with blackboards and a computer with digital projector. There is no overhead projector.

Lectures will begin Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday at 9:30 a.m. and end about 5:30 p.m. There will be a problem session every afternoon. On Saturday the building will be closed and there will be no lectures.

Computers with internet access are available in the math lounge on the 4th floor. There is also free WiFi throughout the Graduate Center, for which no password is required.

FOOD

An excellent cafeteria is on the 8th floor of the Graduate Center, and there are many restaurants in the neighborhood. Espresso, latte, etc. are available in the coffee bar on the ground floor of the Graduate Center, and also at the Starbucks across the street on the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and 35th Street.

There is really great food in New York. Check Zagat's for vast and reliable information.

HOTELS

There are many hotels in the neighborhood of the CUNY Graduate Center, but none of them gives us a special conference rate. Good deals can sometimes be found on the internet. If you work for a state university or US government organization, you may be able to get a (usually very low) government rate for your hotel.

ART MUSEUMS AND GALLERIES

There are many great museums within walking distance of the Graduate Center. The Museum of Modern Art (MoMA) is on 53rd Street between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, and the Metropolitan Museum of Art is on Fifth Avenue at 83rd Street. The Morgan Library is on Madison Avenue and 36th Street, around the corner from the Graduate Center. There are also many excellent galleries for contemporary art in Chelsea, a few blocks south and west of the Graduate Center.
